ST. GEORGE'S FLATS FIRE.

FIREMEN SAID TO HAVE BEEN THIEVES. FLAMES FIRST SEEN IN THE CELLAR-A TALK WITH INSPECTOR ESTERBROOK.

The scene in the burned St. George's Flats yesterday was one of damp desolation. Several of the tenants were removing the furniture and goods that remained. The furniture in the rooms in front of the dining-rooms was mostly uninjured by the fire, and was nearly all covered with tarpaulins. The Insurance Patrol told a nephew of Mr. Burgess that during the fire the house was alive with thieves, and W. O. Cloyes, the superinfendent and engineer of the building, said that a fireman who was seen breaking open bureaus by a member of the fire patrol and remonstrated with threatened to break the head of the latter at the next fire at which he caught him. Mrs. Parsons left in her bureau a watch valued at $300, and $50. The money was in a purse which was in a small hand satchel. A Tribune reporter met her coming out of the house yesterday afternoon with the satchel, which she had recovered from the bureau drawer, without the money; and she said that she could find no trace of the watch. The only front apartments which the fire entered were those of George B. McPherson, on the second floor west, which were completely guitted by the flanes.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The janitor believes that it began in Mrs. Parsons's linen closet, next to the air shaft on the third floor east. It would seem, however, from the condition of the building and the statement of Annie Heflernan, that the fire began in the cellar, at or near the air shaft which runs up close to the central partition on the cast side. Adjoining the air shaft in the cellar and toward Seventeenth-st., is a trunk closet, and forward from that a store room. The wood of which the trunk-room is built is badly charred. Annie Heflernan, the servant of Dr. J. R. Hobbie, who occupied the first floor on the east side, said to a TR-BUNE reporter:

TRIBUNE reporter:

TR-BUNE reporter:

I went down cellar about 11 o'clock to get some potatoes, and saw flames, breaking 'out around the trunk room. There was no one in the cellar then. I ran up to Mrs. Hobbie and told her that the house was on fire. I went into the kitchen and saw smoke and flame coming out of the dumb waiter, and out of the air shaft in the flining-room. I then ran down wellar again, and called for Fred, but he didn't answer, and I ran out into the street.

W. J. Simonton, who occupied the sevently door

When I rented my rooms all three of the Folsor told ne that the building was absolutely fire proof, and Mr. Isborne told me that it was as mearly fire proof as any suilding could be made. If the fire had occurred in the algit not one-quarter of the people would have got out. John H. Taylor, son of John Taylor, the present owner, said:

Every precaution had been taken to make the building safe since my father has owned it. Sixteen Babcock extinguishers and twenty-four water buckets had been distributed throughout the building. We were as much taken in as anybody as to the character of the building which we got in exchange for other property. There never ought to be a building put up of this size and character that is not fire-broof.

Inspector Esterbrook issued an order to the owner of the flat house to tear down the rear walls as far as the fifth story. In conversation with a IRIBUNE reporter he said:

walls as far as the fifth story. In conversation with a IRBUNE reporter he said:

I was not surprised at the rapid burning of the St. George's Flats, and my opinions regarding such buildings have not been chanced by the fire. The plans for the building showed that it was not to be fire-proof, but, under the existing law, I was compelled to approve them. My belief has been all along that a building of that leight ought to be fire-proof. Eight-story flat houses ought to be so constructed that if a man living on the top floor was told that a fire was burning on a lower floor he could say "let it burn," and go to bed without lear that the flames would reach his own apartment. The existence of such high and combustible bouses ought to show people in this city that the present fluiding law is defective. I have worked in vain for two years, trying to get a better law passed by the Legislature. There is a bill now hanging fire at Albany which would prevent the building of such houses as the St. George's Flats. It provides that all buildings of a certain height—exceeding cipity feet if I remember right—shall be theroughly fire-proof. In flat houses of less height the bill provides that the shafts for elevators and dumb-waiters shall be made of brick walls and surmounted by skylights. Such shafts would serve as flues to keep the smoke and flames from spreading through the building. The starways would have to be fire-proof also and be protected by brick walls. Then people could get out of a building it it took fire in the minnt. Such a law is urgently needed to prevent speculators from building these monstrous death-traps, but it looks as if there will have to be a frightful loss of life before the politicians will permit such a bill to pass the Legislature.

Sin: I beg the opportunity of correcting a slight inaccuracy in the report of the St. George's Flat catastrophy yesierday. Mrs. Carolina L. Burgess, who is nearly eighty-live years old, was the guest of her son, Mr. Walton Burgess, who had recently moved into the lifth flat on the east side. In the absence of Mr. Burgess, his wife, unhelped, and indeed not a little obstructed by the half-crazed fremen who had occupied and monopolized the front stairways with their lines of hose, managed to conduct and assist the venerable lady with such admirable presence of mind that she reacked the street door almost unharmed by the smoke and with the least possible injury from the inwooded excitement and exercise. of the shore and with the case of safety, which is mwonted exclienced and exercise. It was at the street door that Mr. Schwenger met the adies and conducted them to places of safety, procuring timely restoratives and refreshment. Mrs. Walton Burgess was herself the rescuer of her guest.

TYPHUS FEVER IN TENEMENT-HOUSES.

THE DISPASE CAUGHT ON SHIPBOARD-ALAEM IN THE SANITARY BUREAU.

THE DISPASE CAUGHT ON SHIPBOARD—ALAEM IN THE SANITARY BUREAU.

Alarm has been caused in the Sanitary Bureau by the discovery of several typhus fever nests in the thickly populated district cast of the Bowery, where the tenement-houses are mostly occupied by Polish Jews and Bohemians. This is the district where Dr. Adler has found material for his recent lectures on the need for tenement-house reform. Too many persons are crowded into the buildings, the rooms are without proper means of ventilation and fifth is allowed to coliect in sinks and closets. The occupants are much opposed to interference on the part of the sanitary authorities and they will conceal cases of contagious disease to prevent the patients from being moved to the public hospitals. Dr. Taylor said vesterday that no worse place could be found in the city for an outbreak of the dreaded fever. The cases thus far discovered in the district were reported to the sanitary authorities by the physicians at the Mt. Sinai Hospital. All the patients were Hebrews, and their friends sent them to the hospital, where the nature of the disease was promptly recognized. It was necessary to have the sick persons removed from the Mt. Sinai Hospital without delay to prevent rooms in that institution from being infected. On Friday Wolf Elterman was attacked with typhus fever at No. 29 Ludlowst, and Aaron and Michael Spetz were stricken down at No. 53 Lewis-st. Sarah Friedlieb, of No. 48 Ludlow-st., and Nathan Levy, of No 43 Secondst, became ill with the fever on the following day. Moses Weigler was sick at No. 38 Rivington-st, on Sunday, and on Monday Machem Eisenscherr was removed from No. 24 Ludlow-st., suffering from the same disease.

It has been ascertained that most of the patients

ame disease.

It has been ascertained that most of the patients came to this city about a fortnight ago on a steamship from Hamburg. The conclusion arrived at by Dr. Taylor is that they contracted the disease on shipboard. As many Polish emigrants have come to the city within a few weeks and have been scattered through the east side of the city there is rea son to fear a much greater spread of the contagion

FAILURE OF HAGEN & BILLING.

Hagen & Billing, No. 1 Wall-st., made an assignment yesterday for the benefit of their creditors to William H. Haldane. The preferred creditors are J. & W. Seligman & Co., $15,000, and the Kansas City Smelting and Refining Company, $20,000. The other liabilities are understood to be small. The assignment was filed at a late hour, and no notice of it was sent to the Stock Exchange. The firm was established in 1869 by Julius H. Hagen and Frederick W. Billing, who on January 1, 1873, admitted Otto Witte as a partner. Mr. Billing withdrew on April 13, 1882, and the remaining partners, with Allan Lexow, have done business under the old firm name. Mr. Witte is the treasurer of the Brocklyn Bridge trustees. As the firm did a money, changing, banking, and stock brokerage business its failure was unexpected, although it was known that the capital controlled by the firm was not large.

FAILURE OF HAGEN & BILLING.

was known that the capital controlled by the firm was not large.

The assignee said that he was unable to give even an approximate estimate of the assets and liabilities, although he was confident that the debts were small. He said that the cause of the failure was the general stagnation of business, accompanied by the neglect of seme of the customers of the firm to respond to calls for further margins. A person intimately connected with the firm said that the suspension was caused in no degree by its connection with the coupon frauds, but only by the lack of business.

EXCHANGING EPITHETS AND BLOWS. EXCHANGING EPITHETS AND BLOWS.

Amos F. Gerald and John C. Rogers, of No. 27
Union Square, have been on bad terms for some time. The former, who is an inventor, had sold some of his patents to the firm of which the latter is secretary. Three working models of "his inventions he removed from the office on Friday, and Mr.
Rogers on Monday secured a writ of replevin. Mr.
Gerald said to Mr. Rogers yesterday:

"One who cuts up capers like this," holding out
the document, "is no better than a thief."

Mr. Rogers replied "You're a liar," and a tussle ensued.

Mr. Rogers, it is alleged, drew a revolver, which be ceeked, and the hammer feil and slightly injured Mr. Gerald's thumb in the struggle for its possession. Gerald finally threw Rogers to the floor, and placing his knee on his breast clutched him by the threat and almost choked him.

Officer Oakley, of the Broadway Squad, who had been called by an office boy, separated them, and counter charges against each other were made. In the Jefferson Market Police Court Officer Oakley said that on the trip to court they had agreed to settle the matter, and they were allowed to go.

FUNERAL OF RULUFF STERLING CHOATE
The funeral of Ruluff Sterling Choate, the eldest son of Joseph H. Choate, was held at All Souls' Unitarian Church, Fourth-ave, and Twentieth-st., at 10 a. m., vesterday. The young man died of apoplexy at his father's home, after an illness of only a quarter of an hour last Saturday evening. He had come home to spend a short vacation from his studies in the Freshman class at Harvard University, and was apparently in the best of health just previous to the attack. The Rev. Theodore C. Williams, pastor of the church, conducted the services. The pall-bearers, all Harvard students, were William Draper, George A. Morrison, Lowell
Lincoln, Daniel C. Griswold, of this city; Elisha Flagg, Francis A. Jones, and Robert Sampson, of Boston; M. S. Latham and Theodore Selgwick, of Stockbridge, Mass; and George C. Baker, of Racine, Wis. A few wreaths rested on the coffin, which was taken to Woodlawn Cemetery. Among those present at the funeral were E. N. Dickerson, Edwards Pierrepont, W. M. Evarts, Thomas C. Acton, Dr. W.
H. Draper, Roscoe Conkling, Charles E. Butler, F.

RUSTEM EFFENDI'S STORY OF ROBBERY.

As Rustem Effendi, the ex-Secretary of the late International Sanitary Conference, has recovered the watch which he complained was stolen from him last Saturday night while entering his boarding-house in East Seventeenth-st., he is satisfied to allow the $60 which he says was stylen from him to go to reward the thief. At the private detective agency to which he went before he told his story to the police it is said that the thieves are well known, but have not been arrested because "The Effendi dees not care to push his complaint, and it would hart our business." On Sunday afternoon the Effendi called at the Twenty-minth Precinct Station, and told Captain Williams that while he had been feeling in his pocket the night before for his latch-key he had been robbed. He said nothing in relation to the assault which he afterward mentioned to reporters, and Mr. Koster, with whom the Effendi was at 1 a, m. Sunday, assored Captain Williams that his friend was not at that time under the milience of liquor. The police are inclined to doubt the stories of the loss of money and of the assault. It was said at Police Headquarters yesterday that the published statements regarding the loss of the watch and money were too conflicting for belief. RUSTEM EFFENDI'S STORY OF ROBBERY.

MR. ASTEN NOT TO RESIGN AT ONCE, There was a good deal of interest yesterday in the various departments as to the outcome of the quarrel between President Asten, of the Fax bepartment, and the Mayor, at the meeting of the Board of Estimate on Monday. Mr. Asten said that he had little to add to what he had said on Monday. He as convinced that the action of the Board of Estimate in voting for certain items in the final extinutes added as the order. Board of Estimate in voting for certain items in the hual estimates added $2,000,000 to the burdens of the tax payers for the present year. He did not purpose to resign as Tax Commissioner during the incumbency of the present Mayor, and thus give him an opportunity to appoint his successor. He did intend, however, to resign as secretary of the Board of Estimate.

Controller Grant said he would report on the question of the salary of Mr. Adee at the next meeting of the Board.

Mayor Edson had nothing to say.

CAPTURED WITH HIS STOLEN GOODS. Detective Hart, of the Mulberry-st. police station Detective Hart, of the Mulberry-st. police station hast night saw a man with a suspicious looking value in the Bowery going in the direction of Mother Mandelbaum's, the notorious receiver of stolen goods. When Hart touched the man on the shoulder he dropped the value and started on a run. He was quickly stopped and taken along with the value to the station house. Among the articles captured were jewelry worth $1,000; razors, knives and forks and 215 breast pits. The property was identified as the proceeds of a burglary which took place vesterday morning at the jewelry store of Nichols & Co., No. 300 Bowery, formerly "Sandy" Spencer's Concert Hall. The thief gave his name as Arthur Wesley, age twenty-one, a waiter, of No. 64 First-st.

LONG ISLAND.

LONG ISLAND.

EAST NEW-YORK.—The Rev. Joseph L. Elsegood, of Trinity Episcopal Church, his wife and their servant grit, narrowly escaped suffocation by coal gas on Menday night. By some disarrangement of the furnace, the bedroom of Dr. Elsegood became filled with gas while he and his wife were asleep. The servant who entered the room with hot water yesterday morning was also overcome and fell to be the floor unconscious. The noise aroused a young man in the house who opened the windows. Dr. Andrews, who was called in, said that ten minutes later their lives could not have been saved.

Long Island Chira.—About 3 o'clock yesterday.

Long Island City.—About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon a large crowd of men and boys surrounded two game-cocks in Borden-ave, which fought for thirty-five minutes, when one of them died from exhaustion. The other had both eyes knocked out. A funeral was passing at the time and some young men left their coach and began to bet vigorously on the lord.

JUDAH P. BENJAMIN'S ANTECEDENTS.

The temperance work in Montelair, N. J., is at length located m fixed headquarters. On Monday evening the Reform Club building was opened to the public. The celebration was planned upon an extensive scale. Prompily at 8 o'clock the procession formed opposite the Morris and Essex depot. The inne was headed by a band, Next came the fifty members of the Catholic Temperance Guild. They followed the 200 red ribbons of the Reform Club, while the rear was guarded by the youthful Temperance Cadets. The club house presented a lively appearance. All the rooms were crowded with visitors. Further down the avenue, in Montelair Hall, another crowded house awaited the Reform Club.

The outline of the New-Jorsey work at present includes early visitations to New-Briuswick, Rahway, and Elizabeth. Mabee and English will be in Rahway the first of May. The temperance sentiment in Elizabeth is reported by a prominent worker there to be low. Corner lots have been divided up into squares of four feet, and deeded to persons in order that they may become freeholders and sign licenses. The Excise Board sit with class?

From Pole to Pole AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has demonstrated its power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

power of cure for all diseases of the blood.

The Harpooner's Story.

New Bedford, Jane I, 1883.

Dr. J. C. Aven & Co.—Twenty years ago I was a harpooner in the North Pacific, when five others of the crew and myself were laid up with scurvy. Our bedies were bloated, gums awollen and bleeding, teeth loose, purple blotteles all over us, and our breath seemed rotten. Takett by and large we were pretty badly off. All our lime-julce was accidentally destroyed, but the captain had a couple dozen bottles of Aven's Kansapanilla and gave us that. We recorred on it quicker than I have ever seen men brought about by any other treatment for Survy, and I've seen a good deal of it. Seeing no mention to your Almanne of your Sarsapanilla being good for scurvy, I thought you ought to know of this, and so send you the facts.

Respectfully yours, Ralphy Y. Wingate.

The Trooper's Experience.

Massen, Basutoland (S. Africa.) March7, 1883.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.—Gentlemen: I have much pleasure to testify to the great value of your Barsaparilla. We have been stationed here for over two years, during which time we had to live in tents. Being under canvas for such a time brought on what is called in this country "veldt-sores." I had those sores for some time. I was advised to take your Barsaparilla, two bottles of which made my sores disappear rapidly, and I am now quite well.

Yours truly, T. K. Boden,

Trooper, Cape Mounted Riffemen.

POISON OAK

Seems to yield every time to treatment with Switt's Specime.

Your most valuable medicine (SWIFT'S SPECIFIC) has done me so much good that I feel like saying this for the benent of those who suffer like I did. I was poisoned by Folsons OAK, and saw not a well day for six years, until I used Switt's Specific. In the six years I used simust every kind of medicine, but none had the destred effect. After using six bottles of Swift's Specific I am restored to perfect health—with not a sign of that awful poison left! Yours truly.

FOISON OAK.

I had for thirty-eight years suffered every spring and summer with Poison Oak, which I contracted in bathing when a boy. I tried everything for it, including many physicians, but without any benefit. I took six bottles of 8 sitts Specific (S. S. S.) four years ago, and it cured me sound and well. Three summers have passed, and I have had no return of it.
